

CRACKSMAN IS FRIGHTENED OFF

Watchman Arrives Just After He Gains Access to Office Safe.

After forcing the door of the safe in the office of Kauffman, Davidson, Semmel, Inc., dealers in hides and wool, at 280 West Third South street, a lone burglar was interrupted in his work and frightened from the place last night by the appearance of James Kenney, the night watchman.

Fifty dollars in currency, which he might have secured without difficulty, was left untouched in an inside drawer while the burglar fled through the front door as the night watchman entered from the rear. He had not been caught up to a late hour.

No explosive was used. His work was of the women's method. The combination of the huge door was knocked off; the inside parts were displaced by means of a punch; the inside doors were "jimmied" open.

It is evident that the intruder entered after prying open the front door. He was cautious enough to leave it ajar. He had completed his work and had almost clear access to the smaller drawers when disturbed. At the first sound of footsteps he abandoned further efforts and took flight. The night watchman, it seems, had no idea of the intruder's presence, until he heard him run from the place.

No description of the man was obtained by the police. In his haste to get behind a "jimmy" and a ten-pound sledge hammer, the chief instruments used in his operations, it is believed that the burglar entered the place shortly after midnight. The burglary was discovered about a half hour later, it marks the first attempt within three years.

BURGLAR OF SEVEN YEARS PROMISES TO BE GOOD

Chastised by Father, He Is Arrested When Trying to Return Stolen Articles.

Eugene Burleigh, the 7-year-old son of E. R. Burleigh, an employee of the Colorado meat market, living at 822 Cannon street, was designated by the police as the youngest robber ever taken in custody here, after his arrest yesterday for alleged burglary at Fourth West and First South streets.

With two companions, who were not caught, he is said to have broken into a box car standing on the Salt Lake switch at that point, and taken several pieces of glassware. The boys were confined to Salt Lake and were to have been sent out today.

Upon returning to his home the boy's father chastised him for his actions and commanded him to return the stolen articles on penalty of further whipping. The little fellow arrived at the car and was about to fulfill his mission when taken in charge by a watchman. The latter sent him to police headquarters. After being questioned by Chief Barlow the boy was released upon promise to be good and keep away from evil companions.

A private safe may be rented in the fire and burglar proof vault of the Salt Lake Security & Trust Co., 32 up Main street, $2.00 per year and upwards.

INSANE FOREIGNER IS TO BE DEPORTED

The man had been picked up on the streets Monday, and at the hearing refused to talk. His fellow countrymen who knew him said he had been in the country about three months, and an effort will be made to have him deported. Emily Madison, aged 35 years, residing at 746 South Fifth East street, was committed to the Provo institution. She has been in poor health for months from some form of nervous trouble.

MEDALS FOR WINNERS OF STATE RIFLE COMPETITION

Medals for the winners of the state rifle competition were received by Adjutant General E. A. Wedgewood yesterday and are much more beautiful than ever given by the state. The medals are of gold and bronze and the winner's name will be engraved on the back.

The state rifle competition will be held at the Fort Douglas range August 6 and 7, and each organization of the national guard of Utah will be represented by a team of five men. The eighteen men making the best scores at this meet will be selected to go to Camp Perry, Ohio, for the national rifle match which will open August 22.

Utah's first rifle team to attend the national match at Camp Perry went east last season, but did not make a very good showing, although scoring higher than several teams which have been attending matches for several years. A new classification of teams has been made up which will give Utah a much better chance to get to the top of the list this year.

LAND OFFICE RECEIPTS SHOW BIG INCREASE

The annual report of Register E. D. R. Thompson of the United States land office for the fiscal year ending June 30 of monies received at the local land office shows an increase of 30 per cent more than the amount taken in during the previous year. The increase is accounted for by the fact that the government had advanced its prices on coal lands, and instead of selling these valuable lands for $10 and $20 an acre they are now selling at $50 and $75 an acre, according to the location. The amount of money taken in by the local office for the last twelve months was $12,000. The last year's total was $9,000, and the year previous it was $7,000.

FLORENCE SWINNERTON TRIES OUT HER SKETCH

The clever little sketch, "In the Star's Dressing Room," was heard in a preliminary tryout yesterday morning on the stage of the Colonial theatre by a few friends. It was presented by Miss Florence Swinnerton of Los Angeles, who is here for the purpose of getting it on the Orpheum boards. The sketch was written by Frederick Allen, the author of "His Phantom Sweetheart," which made a hit here in last season's vaudeville, and has been bought by Miss Swinnerton outright. It is a little romance, written around two old songs, "The Suwanee River" and "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and it receives adequate treatment at the hands of Miss Swinnerton, whose ability as an actress is added to a very sweet, rich voice full of feeling such as the old songs require.

The play will probably be put on the first week in vaudeville at the Orpheum. If not the first week very early in the season. Manager Winch was among those who saw the tryout yesterday, and he was well pleased with it. Miss Swinnerton is well known in musical circles in Los Angeles, and has had considerable experience in opera work.

TWO DECISIONS GIVEN BY SUPREME COURT

The supreme court, in an opinion written by Justice J. E. Frick, yesterday affirmed the judgment of the Second district court in a suit of the Wall Rice Milling company, appellant, against the Continental Supply company. The case was tried before Judge J. A. Howell at Ogden and a verdict given for the defendant. The suit was for recovery of the value of 200 sacks of rice shipped to the Continental company, which the concern refused to accept after taking it to the warehouse for inspection, on the ground that it was damaged and of inferior quality. The Wall company claimed that the taking of the goods to the warehouse was acceptance, but the supreme court held that the company purchasing had a right to inspection, and that the evidence to that effect was properly admitted. The judgment is affirmed, with costs.

Holding that a copy of notice of appeal must be served on the adverse party, the supreme court yesterday ordered a peremptory writ of mandate to issue on the application of J. W. Snell directed against the Third district court to prevent further proceedings on an appeal taken by Orson Winter from a judgment in favor of Snell in the justice's court of Murray. Snell recovered judgment against Winter in the justice's court in October, 1903. Winter appealed to the district court, and Judge T. D. Lewis allowed him to file an affidavit of service of his attorney, directing that the case proceed to a hearing on its merits. Snell appealed from this to the supreme court, which ordered the writ of prohibition, with directions to the trial judge to permit Winter to supply the defect in service by certificate from the justice. The opinion was written by Justice J. E. Frick, the other justices concurring.

ABUSED HUSBAND AND DESERTED WIFE FILE SUIT

Mrs. Gertrude B. Tesch says that her husband, Ira W. Tesch, deserted her on Aug. 14, 1908, and added insult to injury in November of the same year by writing and telling her that he wouldn't live with her again, so she had better secure a divorce. She says she has written him several times for money, but has received nothing from him. They were married Dec. 23, 1903, and there are no children. She asks, besides the divorce, $100 attorney's fees and restoration of her maiden name of Beckwith.
